Etess joined Mohegan Sun as a member of the casino's pre-opening team in 1996 as Senior Vice President of Marketing, and was responsible for marketing, food and beverage, sports and entertainment and hotel operations.

In 2004, Etess was promoted to President and CEO to oversee the overall management and operation of Mohegan Sun, the Northeast's premier entertainment destination. In 2006, Etess was appointed CEO of the MTGA, assuming responsibility of the overall management and operation of Mohegan Sun and its sister entities, including Mohegan Sun at Pocono Downs – Pennsylvania's first slots casino and harness race track in Wilkes-Barre – and five off-track wagering facilities in Pennsylvania.

Prior to his position at Mohegan Sun, he served as Vice President of Marketing at Players Island Resort-Casino-Spa in Nevada. From 1988 to 1994, Etess was employed at Trump Plaza Hotel & Casino in Atlantic City, rising through the ranks from Public Relations Manager to Senior Vice President of Marketing. Before that, Etess was a partner in the advertising and public relations firm of Gordon Etess Associates in Pinehurst, N.C., working there after serving as General Manager at CCA/Holly Inn in Pinehurst.

Before 1985, Etess worked in virtually every capacity at his family-owned Grossinger's Hotel in Grossinger, N.Y. It was here that Etess, raised at the hotel, received his early training in the hospitality industry.

A graduate of Columbia University, Etess resides in East Lyme with his wife Karen. They have two daughters, Piper and Maxie.

JEFF HARTMANN

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

In his eighth year as COO of the Connecticut Sun, Jeffrey E. Hartmann is responsible for overseeing the team's finance department, monitoring all aspects of team finances and ensuring that all WNBA league financial reporting requirements are met.

In this position, Hartmann oversees External Development, Construction Management, Information Technology, MTGA Corporate finance and SEC reporting. In addition, he is responsible for daily operations of Mohegan Sun at Pocono Downs, located in Wilkes Barre, Penn.

Prior to his most recent promotion, Hartmann was the Executive Vice President of Finance and Chief Financial Officer of Mohegan Sun from 1996-2004, supervising day-to-day management of the accounting, financial reporting to the Securities Exchange Commission and bondholder and bank relations.

Hartmann has 18 years of experience in the casino and hotel industry. Prior to joining the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority, he served as Vice President of Finance at Foxwoods Management Company from August 1991 until December of 1996. A certified public accountant, Hartmann was employed by PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP, as an Audit Manager, from 1984 to 1991.

A graduate of Rutgers University, Hartmann resides in Old Lyme, Connecticut with his wife Marisa and their four children.

In his current position, Pineault is a member of the senior Executive Committee and duties including department budget approval, staffing, business planning and strategic plan development. He is in his first season as an alternate governor for the Connecticut Sun.

Prior to joining the Mohegan Sun in 2005, Pineault was Senior Staff Attorney for the Mohegan Tribe where he was responsible for reporting to the Tribal Council on all matters related to business development, financial reporting, debt structure, as well as bond and bank financing. In addition, in his role with the Tribe, Pineault provided legal services to several of the Tribes departments, including, the Housing Authority, Planning and Development Department and the Tribal Employment Rights Office. From August 1999 to March 2001 Pineault worked in the financial services industry providing legal advice on regulatory compliance and mortgage finance.

A graduate of the University of Connecticut with a Bachelor of Arts and Quinnipiac College School of Law, Pineault resides in Glastonbury, Conn. with his wife Allyson and three children Ashley, Ryan and Morgan.

CHRIS SIENKO

VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Entering his eighth season with the Connecticut Sun, Chris Sienko is the Vice President and General Manager, directing the business and basketball operations for one of the most successful franchises in the WNBA. As part of his day-to-day responsibilities Sienko also oversees Sponsorship and Regional Marketing on behalf of Mohegan Sun.

Working closely with Sun coach Mike Thibault, Sienko has been extremely aggressive during each off-season, using trades and free agent signings to build a team that has been a perennial contender, qualifying for the playoffs in six of its first seven seasons since relocating from Orlando following the 2002 WNBA season.

Missing the post-season in 2009 was unfamiliar territory and drastic changes were made to bring a new direction to the team, including the blockbuster trade in January that brought Renee Montgomery and the No. 1 pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft to Connecticut in exchange for Lindsay Whalen and the No. 2 pick. The Sun used their No. 1 pick to select UConn star Tina Charles. Unrestricted free agent Kara Lawson was also added in the off-season to help solidify the backcourt along with DeMya Walker, who was picked in the Sacramento dispersal draft.

Twelve of the 14 trades in franchise history have happened while Sienko has been the GM of the Sun. Previous trades have netted Margo Dydek, Asjha Jones and Whalen.

Sienko was charged with overseeing a hectic transition period that began when the Mohegan Tribe purchased the Orlando Miracle on Jan. 28, 2003. In the days between that announcement and the Sun's first preseason game against the New York Liberty, Sienko traded for Connecticut icon Rebecca Lobo, hired coach Mike Thibault and the rest of the Sun front office staff, helped negotiate the team's radio and television contracts and managed all of the other day-to-day business functions of the franchise, including player contracts and personnel moves for the team. In addition to his role as GM for the Sun at that time, Sienko was concurrently directing all sporting events for the property, including boxing, wrestling, college and professional basketball, bowling, billiards and more.

Sienko was the impetus behind the creation of the Connecticut Sun Foundation, a not-for-profit founded in 2007. The Foundation awards an annual Bright Horizons Scholarship to one deserving Connecticut high school senior, and it helps high-risk individuals in our community. He has served on the board of the Foundation since its inception.

Sienko sits on several different committees for the WNBA including the Competition Committee, Rules and Regulations, Marketing, Advertising and Sponsorship committees. He is also on an advisory committee, made up of all the COOs in the league. Outside of the league, Sienko also sits on the Board of Directors for the not-for-profit Channel 3 Kids Camp based in Andover, CT.

This summer, Chris will be overseeing his third All-Star game – this year versus the United States National Team (core players who will make up the 2012 Olympic team) – to be hosted at Mohegan Sun Arena in July.

Prior to joining Mohegan Sun, Sienko was an integral part in the start up of another professional sports team, the ABL's New England Blizzard, where he served as vice president of marketing, then general manager. He also was president of the Arthur Robert Group, a small advertising agency in Connecticut for eight years, as well as vice president of marketing for thePit.com, which was successfully sold to Topps, Inc. in 2000.

Sienko is a graduate of the University of Connecticut.

MIKE THIBAULT

HEAD COACH

Returning for his eighth season with the Connecticut Sun, Mike Thibault is firmly established as one of the premier coaches in the WNBA.

Currently the longest-serving coach in the league, Thibault is a two-time WNBA Coach of the Year who has compiled a 143-95 regular season record. His .601 winning percentage is first among active coaches, and fifth all time. On July 22, 2007, Thibault became the third fastest coach in league history to win 100 games, reaching the milestone in just 159 games.

Last year, Connecticut's bid for a seventh straight trip to the playoffs unraveled late in the season as the Sun struggled without All Star forward and leading scorer Asjha Jones, who missed the final 11 games with a strained Achilles tendon. The Sun also lost Tamika Whitmore for 10 games midway through the season because of a knee injury, and Amber Holt for eight games at the start of the season with a broken right hand. The Sun were not eliminated until the second to last game of the year, a loss at Atlanta on Sept. 11th, finishing with a 16-18 record.

In the off-season, Thibault began planning an overhaul that would eventually lead to a blockbuster trade that sent veteran point guard Lindsay Whalen and the No. 2 pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft to Minnesota in exchange for second-year guard Renee Montgomery and the No. 1 pick in 2010. The Sun used that pick to select UConn star Tina Charles, and also executed a draft day trade with Minnesota that netted Nebraska star Kelsey Griffin with the No. 3 pick in the draft. Additionally, Connecticut signed veteran free agent Kara Lawson and selected veteran forward DeMya Walker in the dispersal draft for the Sacramento Monarchs.

The decision to trade Whalen was a typically bold move for Thibault. Twelve of the 14 trades in franchise history have been made during his tenure, including the deal that originally enabled the Sun to draft Whalen with the fourth overall pick in the 2004 WNBA Draft. Asjha Jones and Margo Dydek are other notable players brought to Connecticut through trades.

Named WNBA Coach of the Year for the second time in his career in 2008, Thibault led the third-youngest team in the league to 21 victories, a sixth straight winning season and a sixth straight berth in the playoffs.

Connecticut's youth, combined with the offseason departure of veteran All Stars Katie Douglas, Nykesha Sales and Margo Dydek led to predictions the Sun would struggle in 2008. Instead, the team jumped out to an 8-1 start, matching its best record over the first nine games of a season in franchise history. Connecticut was the last team in the league to lose on the road, the last to lose two games in a row, and the first to qualify for the playoffs, earning a spot in the postseason with a win at Atlanta on August 29th.

Despite starting two rookies in 28 of 34 games in 2008, the Sun established new records for total points (2,690), scoring average (79.1 ppg.), made threes (221) and three-point shooting percentage (33.0) while becoming the third team in franchise history to win more than 20 games in a season.

Eleven different players, including five rookies, started at least one game for the Sun in 2008. A total of 14 players – Connecticut added Erin Phillips and Svetlana Abrosimova to the roster following the Olympic break – logged minutes.

Thibault's accomplishments were particularly impressive considering he was in the midst of completing a commitment to USA Basketball that began in February of 2006, when he was named an assistant coach on the staff of Anne Donovan. Thibault helped the USA Women's Basketball team win the bronze medal at the World Championships in Sao Paolo, Brazil in September of 2007, and the gold medal at the Summer Olympic Games in Beijing in August of 2008.

Named head coach of the Connecticut Sun on March 7, 2003 – following a four-year stint with the Milwaukee Bucks – Thibault inherited a squad that had never finished above .500. He guided his first team, picked to finish last in the Eastern Conference by many pundits, to an 18-16 record and the first playoff series win in franchise history, a sweep of the favored Charlotte Sting.

From 2003 through 2008, Connecticut won 127 regular season games, tied with Detroit for the most victories in that six-year span. Connecticut and Sacramento were the only teams to have six straight winning seasons during that time while Connecticut, Sacramento and Detroit were the only teams to reach every postseason.

In 2006, Thibault earned his first Coach of the Year Award after leading Connecticut to its second straight 26-8 season, its third straight Eastern Conference regular season title and its fourth straight trip to the Eastern Conference Finals. No other Eastern Conference team has ever won 26 games in a season.

During the 2005 and 2006 seasons, Connecticut was 52-16 (.764) in the regular season. Only Los Angeles and Houston have ever won more games in consecutive seasons. The Sun won 12 straight games from July 16-August 9 of 2006, the third longest winning streak in league history. Ten of those wins came without Nykesha Sales, who was out with an Achilles tendon injury. The Sun were 11-1 overall without Sales, and also went 2-0 without Taj McWilliams-Franklin.

In 2005, Thibault guided the Sun to the best regular season record ever posted by an Eastern Conference team, a 26-8 mark that included a remarkable 13-1 record against the Western Conference. Connecticut's 12-2 start over 14 games was one of the quickest in WNBA history, topped only by Houston's 13-1 start in 1998. The Sun clinched their second straight Eastern Conference regular season title with five games remaining on their schedule. Not since 2001 had a team won as many regular season games as Connecticut did in 2005.

Connecticut went on to repeat as Eastern Conference Champions, sweeping Detroit and Indiana before falling to Sacramento in the WNBA Finals, the first playoff series in league history played under a best-of-five format.

In 2004, Thibault led a Sun team that was a near-unanimous preseason pick to finish last to within one made basket of a WNBA championship. After finishing first in the Eastern Conference during the regular season for the first time in franchise history, the Sun beat Washington and New York on the way to their first Eastern Conference Championship. Connecticut won the first game of the WNBA Championship series with Seattle before eventually falling in three games.

Connecticut's 2004 run was surprising to some because Thibault had rebuilt the team following a 2003 run to the Eastern Conference Finals. Concluding the Sun needed to get younger and more athletic, Thibault risked taking a temporary step back to get better. He carried five rookies on the 2004 roster, lowering the average age of his team from 28.4 to 24.2. Among those rookies was Whalen, who averaged more than 30 minutes per game as the starting point guard.

The Sun also excelled despite losing starting forward Brooke Wyckoff to a season-ending knee injury on May 3, 2004. Wyckoff and the five other veterans who did not return to the team averaged a combined 30 points, 13.5 rebounds and 7.6 assists per game in 2003.

Thibault entered the NBA ranks in 1978 as a scout for the Los Angeles Lakers, and was promoted to director of scouting and assistant coach in 1980. The Lakers won two World Championships (1980, 1982) during his tenure. From 1982-1986, he was an assistant coach and director of scouting for the Chicago Bulls during a period when the franchise drafted Michael Jordan and Charles Oakley, while also acquiring John Paxson.

From 1987-88 Thibault was the general manager and head coach of the Calgary 88's of the World Basketball League (WBL), earning WBL Coach of the Year honors in 1988.

In 1989, Thibault began a remarkable eight-year run as general manager and head coach of CBA's Omaha Racers. The Racers made the playoffs each season (1989-97) under his watch, bringing home a CBA title in 1993, and a return to the finals in 1994. Thibault was named 1993 Sportsman of the Year by the Omaha sportscasters, and ranks sixth on the CBA all-time coaching victory list (236).

In March of 1995, he coached the silver medal winning USA National Team at the Pan American Games, and in August of 1993, he served as head coach of the gold medal-winning USA National Team at the World Championship Qualifying Tournament in Puerto Rico.

He spent the 1997-98 season as a scout for the Seattle Sonics.

Mike and his wife Nanci are active participants in the community, and have been staunch supporters of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation since Mike's days with the Omaha Racers. In 2007, the Thibaults were co-chairs of GREAT STRIDES, the primary fundraiser of the CF Foundation's Connecticut Chapter. Mike and Nanci have two children. Eric is a graduate of the University of Missouri, and a graduate assistant coach for the women's basketball team. He has also been a member of the Sun coaching staff. Carly will be a sophomore at Monmouth University next fall, attending on a basketball scholarship.

SCOTT HAWK

ASSISTANT COACH

Returning for his eighth season as an assistant coach with the Connecticut Sun, Scott Hawk works primarily with the team's post players, and is also responsible for preparing game plans, and scouting opponents and college players.

In 2009, second-year center Sandrine Gruda doubled her rebound (6.3 rpg) and scoring averages (13.5 ppg) while center Chante Black led all WNBA rookies in average blocks per game, finishing second on the team with a total of 27. Before she was forced to miss the final 11 games of the season with an injury, Asjha Jones was on track to surpass her single-season career high for rebounds (201), a mark she set in 2008.

Ranked 13th in rebound percentage, 14th in total rebounds, 14th in total defensive rebounds and 11th in total offensive rebounds in 2003, Connecticut steadily improved under Hawk's guidance, finishing the 2006 season ranked first in total defensive rebounds and second in total rebounds. Connecticut has continued to be one of the top rebounding teams in the league, even as new players have been rotated into the starting frontcourt.

Hired on March 27, 2003, Hawk brought more than 20 years of experience coaching men's and women's basketball to the Sun staff. Beginning in 1980, Hawk worked as a teacher, head coach and assistant in some of Nebraska's top high school programs, including Omaha Cathedral, Bellevue West, Plattsmouth and his alma mater, Omaha Creighton Prep. Hawk guided his teams to a pair of Nebraska state championships, and he was twice named Coach of the Year.

Hawk also served as a Director of the Omaha Crusaders, a 501 C3 non-profit corporation created to benefit young people in Nebraska and western Iowa that also happens to be the parent organization of one of the largest high school summer basketball programs in Nebraska. Hawk earned a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Nebraska (Omaha).

He lives in Connecticut with his daughters Maggie and Clare.

BERNADETTE MATTOX

ASSISTANT COACH

In her eighth season as an assistant coach with the Connecticut Sun, Bernadette Mattox works primarily with the team's wing players, and is also responsible for preparing game plans as well as scouting opponents and college players.

Connecticut led the WNBA in assist-per-turnover ratio (1.34) for the second straight season and the fourth time since 2005. The Sun have not ranked lower than third in this category since the 2003 season. Connecticut also topped 600 assists for the fourth straight season, finishing with 608. The Sun ranked second in the league in assists per game.

Lindsay Whalen emerged as an All Star under the tutelage of Mattox, collecting a franchise-record 964 career assists at Connecticut with a lofty 2.1 assist-to-turnover average during that time. She was just the second player in WNBA history to average at least 10 points, five assists and five rebounds in a season, accomplishing that in 2008.

In 2007, Whalen and Katie Douglas became the first backcourt tandem in franchise history to each compile 100 assists in a season.

Hired by head coach Mike Thibault on March 27, 2003, Mattox brought 18 years of Division I and international coaching experience with her when she accepted an assistant coaching position with the Connecticut Sun. Prior to her arrival in Connecticut, Mattox made NCAA history when she became the first female to serve as a Division I assistant for a men's team, beginning a four-year stint under coach Rick Pitino at Kentucky in 1990. During the four seasons Mattox was on Pitino's staff, the Wildcats were 108-24 with a Final Four appearance in 1993. She also served as an assistant athletic director at UK from 1994-95.

In 1995, Mattox became the first African American to coach the Kentucky Women's basketball program, guiding the Wildcats for eight seasons. During her tenure as UK's head coach, she led the Wildcats to an NCAA Tournament berth in 1999. She also served as an assistant coach on the 1998 USA Basketball Women's World Championship team, which posted a 9-0 record on the way to winning the Gold Medal in Germany.

Mattox graduated from the University of Georgia, where she was a standout women's basketball player, earning the program's first All-American designation in 1979-80, when she averaged 20.6 points, 4.6 assists and 4.2 steals per game as a junior. Mattox was also the first player in Georgia women's basketball history to earn Academic All-American honors, and she finished her career averaging 15 points per game. She went on to work as an assistant to Georgia head coach Andy Landers for five years.

Mattox lives in Lexington, Ky. with her husband Vince and son Vincent.

HISTORY
On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June of 1997.

Since that day in 1996 there have been many firsts for the WNBA:

Val Ackerman – the first president of the WNBA

Sheryl Swoopes – the first player signed to the WNBA

Cynthia Cooper – the league's first Most Valuable Player

Houston Comets – the first WNBA Champions

Lisa Leslie – the first WNBA player to dunk (7/30/02 vs. Miami)

Lauren Jackson – the first international player to win MVP (2007)

Candace Parker – the first rookie to earn the league's MVP honor (2008)

Sylvia Fowles – the first goaltending call (vs. LA 6/3/2008)

The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, California. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks' guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks, 67-57.

A GROWING GAME
The influence of the WNBA can be seen in the explosive growth of organized women's basketball over the past 12 seasons. An estimated 100 million women play basketball worldwide, and our league reflects this trend, featuring 23 international players from 16 countries and territories at the end of the 2008 season. Female AAU youth basketball participation has increased +277 percent since 1990 (from 28,840 to 108,758 players). Female high school basketball participation has increased 18 percent since 1990 (from 387,802 to 456,967 players). And female NCAA basketball participation has increased 43 percent since 1990 (from 10,551 to 15,096 players).

ALL-STAR GAME
This summer's marquee event "WNBA vs. USA Basketball: The Stars at the Sun" will showcase the world's best female basketball players under one roof when the WNBA's top talent faces the USA Basketball Women's National Team. This special event, hosted by the WNBA and the Connecticut Sun, will take place at the Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, CT on Saturday, July 10. ESPN will broadcast the game with tip-off set for 3:30 p.m. ET. The USA Basketball squad will be coached by Geno Auriemma.

The 2009 WNBA All-Star Game was held at Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Conn. on Saturday, July 25. It was the ninth such game in league history, and second played at Mohegan Sun, and was played in front of a sellout crowd of 9,518. The West beat the East 130-118 in the highest scoring All-Star Game in WNBA history. Swin Cash of the Seattle Storm claimed MVP honors. Cash, who tallied an All-Star record 22 points on 10-of-16, was one of five former UConn Huskies who were participating in the game.

INSPIRING COACH
The Inspiring Coach Award is an annual honor introduced in 2007 to honor coaches who have positively influenced athletes across numerous levels and whose achievements leave an indelible mark on sports as a whole. The University of Tennessee's Pat Summitt earned the honor in 2009 for her profound impact on female athletes and her demonstrated commitment, passion, and dedication to work, family, and community. Previous winners include Kay Yow and Jody Conradt.

INSPIRING WOMEN

The Inspiring Woman Award is an annual honor that celebrates an individual who, on a daily basis, demonstrates her ability to inspire others through her commitment, passion and dedication to work, family, and community. Past honorees include Emmy-award winning journalist Cokie Roberts, Good Morning America's Robin Roberts, Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice, and the WNBA All-Decade Team.

DAWN STALEY AWARD

The Dawn Staley Community Leadership Award was announced in 2006 and is now presented annually to the player who best exemplifies the characteristics of a leader in the community and reflects Staley's contagious leadership, spirit, charitable efforts and love for the game. Tamika Catchings won the inaugural award in 2007 while Tamika Raymond was named the winner for 2008. A member of the WNBA's All-Decade Team, Staley, who retired following the 2006 season, established herself as one of the greatest ambassadors in women's basketball history, while also demonstrating outstanding leadership qualities as a coach on the collegiate level and as a philanthropist and humanitarian.

MARKETING

The WNBA maintains marketing, promotional, and media partnerships with a variety of top companies, each with varying levels of activation and integration in league operations.

Marketing Partners: adidas, EA SPORTS, Gatorade, HP, Kia Motors, NIKE, Peak, Pitney Bowes, Russell, Southwest, Spalding, Starwood, T-Mobile, Toyota

Promotional Partners: 1-800-Flowers, Booz Allen, Meredith, General Mills, OfficeMax, Protégé

Media Partners: IHOP, Merck, Sanofi Pasteur

New partners in 2008 included such major companies as Kia Motors, IHOP and Pitney Bowes. HP, Starwood Hotels and Resorts and "Got Milk?" all joined the WNBA as partners for the 2009 season.

The WNBA's marketing partners utilize the league to support women's sports and reach its strong fan base of women, families, and young girls through advertising in WNBA nationally televised games, national promotions, player endorsements, and special events. Through the WNBA's extensive, highly integrated relationship with adidas, the sporting goods and apparel giant not only serves as the official outfitter of the WNBA – having unveiled new uniforms across the league in 2007 – but also as the presenter of the 2007, 2008, and 2009 WNBA Drafts and in 2008 became the first-ever presenting partner of the WNBA's entire postseason, including both the playoffs and Finals.

Two WNBA teams entered the 2009 season as forerunners in the league's Marquee Partnership program, which includes multiyear deals featuring branded sponsorship of game jerseys – the Phoenix Mercury partnering with LifeLock, a giant in the identity theft industry, and the Los Angeles Sparks partnering with Farmers Insurance Group.

ATTENDANCE/TV RATINGS

The WNBA concluded the 2009 regular season with its third consecutive year of increased attendance and second consecutive year of increased viewership on ESPN2. The WNBA regular season on ESPN2 concluded with an average of 269,000 viewers, up 8 percent versus 2008 (248,000 viewers). Regular-season games on ESPN2 saw increases in key demographics, including men 18-34 (+9 percent), men 18-49 (+14 percent), and men 23-54 (+23 percent).

For the 2009 WNBA Finals presented by adidas, average viewership on ESPN2 jumped 76 percent from 2008. The five-game series featuring the Indiana Fever and Phoenix Mercury also featured three sellouts and the highest total attendance figure (82,018) in WNBA Finals history.

The WNBA has one of the top five Facebook fanbases among sports leagues, with more than 275,000 fans (www.Facebook.com/wnba).

The WNBA's broadcast coverage in 2009 included live national telecasts of 29 regular-season and postseason contests on ESPN2 and ABC, and another 50 games on NBA TV, as well as games streamed on ESPN360.com.

In addition, fans watched more than two million streams of live and archived games through WNBA LiveAccess, a new feature on WNBA.com that provided fans with free access to more than 200 live game Webcasts – the league's most comprehensive offering – throughout the season.

In July 2007, the WNBA signed a new, eight-year TV deal with ESPN that tips off in 2009 and runs through 2016, the WNBA's 20th season. The agreement, which calls for ABC, ESPN and ESPN2 to telecast WNBA games, includes rights fees, a first for any women's pro team sports league in the U.S.

GLOBAL REACH

Now in its second decade, the WNBA has a wide impact on overseas markets. In 2009, for the third straight year, WNBA games and programming reached a record 203 countries in 32 languages, surpassing the previous total of 198 countries. Included were television agreements in six new countries: Argentina, Bulgaria, Jamaica, Pan Africa, South Korea and China. In addition, for the fourth consecutive year, fans in China were able to view WNBA action via live Webcasts on NBA.com/china.

WNBA rosters for the 2009 season featured 18 international players from 11 countries and territories. Among the league's international contingent are the Seattle Storm's Lauren Jackson (Australia), Indiana Fever's Tammy Sutton-Brown (Canada), San Antonio Silver Stars' Sophia Young (St. Vincent), and Los Angeles Sparks' Ticha Penicheiro (Portugal).

OWNERSHIP

Seven WNBA teams now fall under the independent ownership model: the Atlanta Dream, Chicago Sky, Connecticut Sun, Los Angeles Sparks, Seattle Storm, Tulsa Shock and Washington Mystics.

With the announcement on Oct. 20, 2009 that the Detroit Shock would relocate to Tulsa, Okla., Tulsa Pro Hoops L.L.C. will begin play in 2010 and is led by Bill Cameron and David Box. Force 10 Hoops, L.L.C., the entity owned by Seattle businesswomen and civic leaders Anne Levinson, Ginny Gilder, Lisa Brummel and Dawn Trudeau, purchased the Seattle Storm on Feb. 28, 2008. In October 2009, Kathy Betty purchased the Atlanta Dream. In addition, the Los Angeles Sparks opened the 2007 season with new ownership after Kathy Goodman and Carla Christofferson, two long-time season ticket holders, bought the Sparks on Dec. 7, 2006. They joined Sheila Johnson's Washington Mystics, Michael Alter's Chicago Sky, and the Mohegan Tribe's Connecticut Sun as independently owned WNBA franchises.

Seven women serve as owners of WNBA teams: Dr. Sheila Johnson (Washington Mystics); Kathy Goodman and Carla Christofferson (Los Angeles Sparks); Kathy Betty (Atlanta); and Anne Levinson, Ginny Gilder, Lisa Brummel and Dawn Trudeau (Seattle Storm). An eighth, musical artist Michelle Williams, formerly of "Destiny's Child," is a minority owner of the Chicago Sky.

Johnson, a co-founder of Black Entertainment Television, became the WNBA's first African-American female owner on May 24, 2005 when she joined Ted Leonsis' Lincoln Holdings LLC, which in turn purchased the Washington Mystics from Washington Wizards' owner Abe Pollin.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

Diana Taurasi won both the 2009 WNBA MVP award and the 2009 WNBA Finals MVP award. Lisa Leslie of the Los Angeles Sparks became the first WNBA player to capture the regular-season, All-Star and Finals MVP awards during the 2001 season.

In 2008, Candace Parker became the first WNBA player to win Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player of the Year in the same season. The first selection in the 2008 WNBA Draft, she earned both honors after leading the league in double-doubles and rebounds per game, while also ranking second in blocks per game and fourth in points per game. She also became just the second player (Lisa Leslie), to dunk in a WNBA game.

While Diana Taurasi of the Phoenix Mercury won her first WNBA MVP award in 2009, there have been several repeat honorees. Lisa Leslie of the Los Angeles Sparks earned the award in 2006, 2001, and 2004. Leslie joined the Houston Comets' Sheryl Swoopes as the only players in WNBA history to capture MVP honors three times. Two players have won the award twice in a career: Houston's Cynthia Cooper (1997, 1998) and Seattle's Lauren Jackson (2003, 2007). The others to capture MVP honors are Yolanda Griffith (then with Sacramento in 1999) and Los Angeles' Candace Parker (2008, when she became the first rookie in league history to earn the award).

Taurasi rewrote the WNBA scoring records in 2006 when she led the league with 25.3 points per contest, became the first WNBA player to top 800 points in a single season (860), and the single-season mark for three-point field-goals (121) and the single-game mark for points (47, a number later equaled by the Storm's Lauren Jackson in 2007).

There is only one player who has reached 6,000 points in her WNBA career. The players who have passed the 5,000 point plateau are Tina Thompson, Katie Smith, and Lauren Jackson.
